War, poverty, hunger and crime are caused by the fear that surrounds money and its scarcity. Money is energy, and energy is limitless. Only our fear and our limited way of thinking make money seem scarce. With Mary Soliel, Author of I Can See Clearly Now: How Synchronicity Illuminates Our Lives

We are constantly graced with synchronicity—or meaningful coincidences—but we need to become relentlessly aware of signs so that they can guide us. Our angels are around us 24/7 wanting to serve us, but because of our free will, we must first ask for their help. In this inspirational workshop, learn how to allow these gifts of synchronicity and the presence of our angels to help us create the lives we really want!

6 to 7:30 PM "2012: Crossing the Bridge to the Future" With author MARK BORAX

The Bible. The Book of Mormon. Hopi, Navajo, Buddhist and Mayan prophecy. Hindu predictions. They all point to our time as a key crossroads in evolution. Out of ancient prophecies a great new modern tale of transformation emerges. Mark Borax has been a nomadic poet his whole life. In the late seventies he traveled the U.S. and Canada performing and selling his poetry. In the mid-eighties, Mark was befriended by his adolescent idol, writer Ray Bradbury, who became his literary godfather.
